

“Holyoke’s Fiscal Watchdog”

We need Kevin now more than ever!

Kevin Jourdain: Fighting for Holyoke’s Future!

✓ Keeping Holyoke affordable. Kevin will protect our seniors and working families from more tax and fee increases because of wasteful spending. He also has expanded tax exemptions for our seniors and veterans. Kevin has earned his reputation as “Holyoke’s Fiscal Watchdog!”

✓ Making our streets safer. Kevin was the deciding vote to install a “Shot Spotter” system downtown so police know when and where trouble arises so victims can be saved and criminals can be held accountable. Through his support the network was doubled in size with grant funds. Kevin also has been an advocate for expanded community policing, and he has worked to support the Fire Department.

✓ Saving money and demanding accountability. After leading efforts to reject the largest tax increase in city history, Kevin got to work on a better plan for a new middle school. He brought city leaders together and got the job done, saving taxpayers millions of dollars. He also led efforts to establish regular performance reviews for city departments. Kevin also has pushed the city to dramatically improve workplace safety and reduce costly injuries that hurt employees. Kevin gets results!

✓ Putting Holyoke back in charge of its schools. As a parent of Holyoke public school students, Kevin believes strongly that it’s time to restore local control of our schools. Ending receivership is the best way to support our teachers, parents, and students.

✓ Growing jobs & economic development. Kevin has been a leader to clean up downtown, including repaving High Street. He supports economic development strategies that will support job and tax base growth, as well as, clean up unused properties.

✓ Making smart energy choices. Kevin led recent efforts to eliminate a local moratorium against natural gas, and he encouraged state officials to expand non-pipeline capacity at the West Holyoke LNG facility. Homes and businesses depend on affordable energy while we as a city continue to support other green energy initiatives.

✓ A trusted voice during difficult times. Kevin is a hard worker who delivers excellent constituent service. He is always responsive to the voters and listens to the people he serves. He is always prepared and has excellent attendance. Voters can always count on Kevin to get the job done right!
